Freedom and Fun: Our "No
Bag Day"
Extravaganza!

A Week of Exploration, Engagement, and Enrichment!

Dear Parents, Students, and Staff,

What an incredibly vibrant and engaging week it has been at Sri Vidyasagara International School, Kampli! Our campus buzzed with enthusiasm as students participated in a variety of enriching activities, from captivating conversations about marine life to hands-on mathematical explorations and the joy of a "No Bag Day." We also had a crucial interaction with parents regarding the upcoming FA1 examinations.

Dive into Learning: Dolphin Conservation Activity

This week, our students embarked on an fascinating journey into the world of marine biology with a special Dolphin Conservation Activity. This initiative aimed to raise awareness about the importance of protecting our oceans and the magnificent creatures that inhabit them. Students learned about the behaviors of dolphins, their ecological role, and the threats they face due to pollution and human activities. Through interactive presentations and engaging discussions, our young environmentalists gained a deeper appreciation for marine life and understood how they can contribute to conservation efforts. It was truly inspiring to see their curiosity and commitment to our planet!

Numbers came alive this week with our highly engaging Maths Activity. Designed to make mathematical concepts more accessible and enjoyable, this activity saw students actively participating in problem-solving challenges, fun games, and practical applications of mathematical principles. Whether it was decoding puzzles, collaborating on group projects, or exploring real-world scenarios where maths is essential, students demonstrated remarkable enthusiasm and improved their critical thinking skills. We believe that such hands-on experiences are crucial in fostering a love for mathematics and building a strong foundational understanding.

NO BAG

Saturday brought a wave of excitement with our much-anticipated "No Bag Day"! Students arrived at school without their heavy backpacks, ready for a day filled with creative and interactive learning experiences. This special day was dedicated to fostering holistic development through non-academic activities, team-building games, and artistic expressions. From storytelling sessions to outdoor play and collaborative art projects, "No Bag Day" was a refreshing break from routine, emphasizing the joy of learning through exploration and social interaction. It was wonderful to witness the unburdened smiles and boundless energy of our students!

Safety First: Traffic Lights Activity

One of our classes participated in an excellent Traffic Lights Activity this week, bringing important lessons on road safety to life! Students learned about the meaning of each traffic light color, understanding the rules for pedestrians and vehicles.

This hands-on activity was a fun and effective way to teach them essential safety practices, helping them become more aware and responsible on the roads.

A Rainy Day Celebration at Navabharatha Pre-Primary School

Our youngest learners at Navabharatha Pre-Primary School had an absolutely delightful time celebrating Rain Day! Dressed in colorful raincoats and armed with umbrellas, they splashed, sang, and danced, enjoying the magic of the monsoon in a safe and joyful environment. This special day was filled with fun activities centered around rain, making learning about seasons a truly memorable experience for our little stars.

Important Discussion: FA1 Parents Meeting

On 26th July 2025, Saturday, we held a crucial Parents Meeting to discuss the results of the recently concluded Formative Assessment 1 (FA1) examinations. This meeting provided an invaluable opportunity for parents to gain insight into their child's academic performance, understand their strengths, and identify areas where additional support may be beneficial. Teachers shared individual student progress and discussed strategies to further enhance learning outcomes. We deeply appreciate the active participation of all parents, as their collaboration is key to fostering student growth and success.
